DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1-4 and 6-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b or e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Mayahara et al. 6,106,945 or Jensen et al. 4,636,345, in view of Kubota Ltd. JP-54-031421, Kuraray Co. Ltd. JP-56-125269 or Kuraray Co. Ltd. JP-59-8664.
3. The primary references have been discussed already. The newly claimed properties of the polyvinyl alcohol fibers are inherent in the composition. Applicants' claims are not novel. In the alternative, since Kubota Ltd. discloses cement with organic fibers of certain properties in claims 1-6, strength of the cement plate on page 2, paragraph 4, tensile properties and modulus on pages 4 and 5, vinylon fibers on page 6, penultimate paragraph and further physical data on pages 6-13, Kuraray ('269) teaches coated polyvinyl alcohol fibers for cement reinforcements in the claims, physical properties on pages 8-11 and cement on pages 21 and 22 and Kuraray ('664) recites polyvinyl alcohol fibers in concrete compositions in the claims, fiber properties in the paragraph overlapping pages 5 and 6, page 8-11 and the Examples, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to use the polyvinyl alcohol fibers of the secondary references, in the compositions of the primary references, because said fibers are specially made for cementitious compositions.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 30 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
